

“I wanted so badly

to have a group
to belong to...

I lived in a freshman dorm
for only one week,
then joined a sorority...

I drank so much
that I don't remember
half of my experiences...

“It took a year and a half to work through what I had done in a few months.”

(Laurie later connected with a strong church-based campus ministry—liveabove.com— that helped her recovery. To hear more of Laurie's story check out the Green Disc.)
